Dear Recruiting Manager,

I'm Jiecheng Chen, graduate student majored in Computer Science. I just got my Master Degree from Syracuse University. I'm looking for Software Developer full-time position right now. I am proficient in Core Java, J2EE, SQL, HTML, CSS and JS. I also have good understanding of C++, C#, IP networking and OS. I consider myself a person who like researching and learning new things. After I start learning programing, I always like reviewing a lot of programing books and videos first so that I could self-study a new technology in a very short time in order to finish project. In addition, I am an intelligent, dependable, and dedicated person. I believe I have the ability to be a great team member.

Yours sincerely

Jiecheng Chen
